THE EDIT

The wellness brand India was missing.

Series Seed Deck Aishwarya Chandrasekaran, Founder April 2026

01. The Problem

What does an Indian woman take when she's planning a family?

Today, her three real choices are:

- Pharma-coded prescriptions (Trimacare, Inatal, Pregomega) — feel like medicine, distributed by doctors, no brand connection
- Imported wellness brands (Ritual, Garden of Life, Pink Stork) — premium, but expensive, hard to access, no India context
- Ayurvedic options (Himalaya, Patanjali) — traditional framework, opaque sourcing, no transparency

None of these were built for the modern Indian woman.

02. The Insight — Why Now

The modern Indian woman has changed faster than the supplement market that's supposed to serve her.

- She researches before she buys — reads ingredient lists, looks up published studies
- She expects transparency — wants to know where ingredients come from, who formulated them
- She expects modern branding — wants packaging that belongs in her bathroom, not her first-aid kit
- She wants control over her health journey — preferring DTC subscription over pharmacy or doctor mediation
- She buys on Instagram, expects 2-day delivery, reviews everything

The Indian DTC wellness consumer is real and growing — but no prenatal/preconception/postnatal brand is built for her.

03. The Solution

The Edit is built for her.

A modern, transparent, gynaecologist-co-formulated brand for Indian couples and parents-to-be — across every stage of the family-building journey.

> Every ingredient traceable to a named source. Every dose backed by published science. Every formula co-designed with practicing gynaecologists. Built in India. Made for the moments that matter most.

Brand promise: Only what matters. For the stage you're in.

04. The Product

Three SKUs covering the full family-building journey:

Edit For Two (Hero SKU)

Couples preconception bundle. One box, two bottles. Edit For Her (egg quality, fertility) + Edit For Him (sperm quality, antioxidants).

Edit Prenatal

Comprehensive 18–25 ingredient prenatal supplement. Branded traceable ingredients (Quatrefolic methylfolate, life'sDHA algal DHA, Albion chelated minerals). All within ICMR RDA.

Edit Postnatal (Year 1 expansion, Month 9–12)

Postpartum recovery + lactation support.

Pricing: Rs.800–1,500/month per SKU. Couples bundle priced ~15% below buying separately.

05. Why The Edit Wins — The Competitive Gap

No Indian brand combines all seven of these. The Edit will.

Capability	Trimacare	Wellbeing Nutrition	Imported (Ritual, etc.)	Ayurvedic	The Edit
DTC subscription	❌ Doctor-channel	✅	✅ Imported	❌ Pharmacy	✅
Modern lifestyle branding	❌ Pharma-coded	✅	✅	❌	✅
Traceable branded ingredients	⚠️ Some	⚠️	✅	❌ Opaque	✅
Gynaecologist co-formulation	✅	❌	❌	❌	✅
Full family-building journey	❌ Prenatal only	❌ Not focused	⚠️ Some	❌	✅
Published-science claims	✅	⚠️	✅	❌	✅
Made in India + accessible price	✅	✅	❌	✅	✅

This is the white space.

06. The Market Opportunity

India is the largest reproductive health market in the world that nobody is building intentionally for.

TAM — Indian health & wellness market	$164B (2025) → $258B (2034), 5.14% CAGR
SAM — Indian prenatal + women's wellness supplements	Rs.5,000 Cr+, growing 12% CAGR
SOM — Premium DTC capture (3 years)	Rs.50–100 Cr annual revenue
Customer base	27M pregnancies/year + 5–8M couples actively TTC
Asia-Pacific share of global postpartum market	38.58% (largest regional share)

07. Business Model

Premium DTC subscription. Long customer lifecycle. Couples-driven AOV.

- Pricing: Rs.1,200/month per SKU (avg)
- Couples Bundle (hero): Rs.2,000/month — 2x AOV at zero new acquisition cost
- Customer journey: 15+ months (Preconception → Pregnancy) at launch; 27+ months once Postnatal launches
- Gross margin target: 70–75%
- CAC target: Rs.800–1,500 declining as brand awareness grows
- LTV / CAC: 5x+ over the full journey

08. Go-to-Market

Multi-channel acquisition, content-led trust building.

- Performance marketing — Meta + Google ads, urban metro 28–38 demographic
- Influencer collaborations — mom-creators, wellness creators, practicing gynaecologists with social presence
- Gynaecologist network — leveraging the co-founder's clinical credibility for medical referrals
- PR + content marketing — owning the "transparency" + "couples" narrative
- Editorial partnerships — wellness publications, Femina, Cosmo, women's media

Distribution: Direct from theedit.in (Shopify). Subscription-first, with one-time purchase option.

09. Early Validation

Where we are today (April 2026):

- ✅ Brand thesis locked — manifesto, positioning, product architecture defined
- ✅ Manufacturer discovery underway — Tanishq Lifecare + Brukem Life Care in active conversations
- ✅ Customer validation in progress — [X interviews completed, Y waitlist signups]
- ✅ Regulatory pathway clarified — FSSAI FSDU + Health Supplement endorsements
- ⏳ Gynaecologist co-founder search — 5–10 candidates being approached
- ⏳ Trademark filing — IP India Class 5 + 30 search underway

11. The Ask — Pre-Seed Round

Raising Rs.75–90L (~$90K–110K) at a [valuation TBD] pre-money valuation.

Use of funds (12-month runway)

Category	Allocation
Day 1 inventory (3 SKUs × MOQs)	Rs.12–15L
Marketing (performance + influencer + PR)	Rs.30–40L
Brand identity, packaging, content production	Rs.4–6L
FSSAI consultant + regulatory filings	Rs.3–4L
Tech + operations + working capital	Rs.5–8L
Founder/team runway (12 months)	Rs.10–15L

12-month milestones

- ✅ FSSAI FSDU + Health Supplement licenses approved
- ✅ Edit For Two + Edit Prenatal launched commercially
- ✅ 5,000+ paying customers
- ✅ Rs.5–8 Cr ARR run rate
- ✅ Edit Postnatal launched (Month 9–12)
- ✅ Series A preparation begins

12. The Vision

The Edit is a women's lifecycle wellness platform — not a prenatal company.

The brand walks with Indian families through every major stage of life:

```
Preconception → Pregnancy → Postpartum → Perimenopause → Menopause
   (Year 1)      (Year 1)     (Year 1)        (Year 3)        (Year 5)

Year 3–5 expansion into postpartum recovery, perimenopause, menopausal transition, and supplements for the next generation.

This is a Rs.500 Cr+ brand trajectory — built on the most defensible, most underserved demographic in Indian wellness: the modern Indian woman, across every stage of her family-building life.

13. Why Now. Why This Team. Why The Edit.

Why now: The modern Indian DTC consumer exists, the regulatory framework (FSSAI FSDU) is clear, supply chain partners are mature, and no premium brand owns this space.

Why this team: Founder lived the problem. Co-founder has built consumer + supplement brands at scale. Gynaecologist co-founder brings clinical credibility no aggregator competitor can match.

Why The Edit: Brand-led, gynaecologist-formulated, transparency-first, India-specific. The wellness brand the largest reproductive health market in the world has been waiting for.
